MODULE 2 · LESSON 2

Choosing your hive type

Video lesson content · 12 min

Selecting the right hive type is one of the most important early decisions a beekeeper makes. In South Australia, the Langstroth hive is most commonly used due to its modular design and compatibility with standard equipment. This lesson walks through pros and cons of the Langstroth, Warre, and Top Bar hive styles, with guidance on which best suits a beginner.

 Improvement #3

— Contextual support tip: appears after each lesson, linking learning to support services.
